Currently underway is a regeneration project which will transform Kirkcaldy High Street, restoring and improving it for the benefit of shoppers and residents.

The project requires the resurfacing of the road and footpath over a length of 100m, and resurfacing the High Street's pedestrian zone in granite setts for a length of 320m through the commercial heart of the town.

The work will include the relaying of the footpaths, shared use surfaces and kerbs with cut granite, as well as drainage upgrades, soft and hard landscaping, replacement of the lighting system, Streetscape elements and traffic management infrastructure. Kirkcaldy is the constituency of ex-Prime Minister Gordon Brown. This forms Phase 2 of improvement works for the High Street from Kirk Wynd to Whytehouse Avenue.
